

Hi Family!

It's me again from Guide Dog College. Just wanted to send a quick update on how I am doing. Wow, I'm learning so much! I am learning how to stop at curbs, make right and left turns, and how to cross the street safely. I keep my instructor safe from obstacles on the sidewalk. We train in all kinds of weather in college. It's different, but exciting. I have been working on staying focused while there are distractions around. It is hard sometimes, but my instructor is helping me through it. Soon we will move to a different area where my instructor will get a chance to wear a blindfold while we work.

I've been working hard, but I've been playing hard too. I like playing with a bone and chasing the other dogs with whatever toy I have in my mouth. My roommate is cool and my kennel is nice, but sometimes the kennels can be a little overwhelming, so Sydney has been working with me on settling on tie-down at her desk. I know I can do it, but I just like being with her much better. The kennel staff here is great! When I'm with them, they give me special treats and cuddle with me in my run when I'm not out training. Miss you, but still having a great time and learning a lot.

Wags & kisses!
