

Dear Family,

Hi all! My trainers tell me that I've completed my first set of tests wearing my harness. I helped guide my trainer while they were wearing a blindfold and it was fun!

I know I still have a lot to learn and soon we will be taught how to guide on stairs, elevators and even escalators!

We have fun when we are not working too. The kennel staff gives us toys and we get to run around with our friends. It's a blast!

Take care.

Wiggles and wags,

Giselle
